Men and Horses Fall 110 Feet.
James Wilson and John Martin, residing near Elmdale, went to New Albany recently to procure a coffin in which to bury James Routh. On their return from the city the heavy rain storm came up, and the sky became so dark that they were unable to see the road ahead of them, and they trusted to their horses to take them safely along the dangerous highway.

At the point where the storm overtook them the road winds around the high hills, and in many places passes near high precipices. The rain was pouring down in torrents, and it was only when the lightning flashed they were enabled to see the road at all.

Suddenly there was a brilliant flash of lightning, followed by a deafening peal of thunder, which stunned the men and seemed to stagger the horses. Before they could recover from the shock the horses and wagon fell over a precipice, and all went down a distance of 110 feet. Some men who were passing heard the cries of distress and went to their assistance. They found the men and the horses and wagon in a deep hollow, more than one hundred feet below where the road passes the top of the precipice. Wilson was almost unconscious, while his companion lay near him bruised and bleeding. One of the horses was dead and the other so badly crippled that it had to be killed. The wagon and the coffin were both smashed to pieces.

The men were gotten out of the place and taken to their homes. Wilson is the most seriously injured, and it is thought he cannot live. Martin's injuries are of a serious nature, and his recovery is a matter of considerable doubt.—Louisville Commercial.

What It Costs to Live in a Hotel.
The boarding house habit seems to be continually on the decrease in New York and new restaurants spring up in every direction. As soon as a new hotel with gorgeous appointments is opened hundreds of the curious in matters gastronomic go thither to dine. As soon as a fashionable ten story apartment house is opened there are scores of families eager to pay high rates for its shelter. The hotel, this season are unusually crowded and prices for permanent lodging are enormous. A man of my acquaintance recently asked the proprietor of a well known hotel on Fifth avenue what would be the price per week to himself and his family—four persons in all—for a moderate sized suite of rooms. The price named was nearly $200 a week. That was an old established house, however. The new ones are charging less for the purpose of having all apartments occupied before May 1, when new contracts with lodgers will be made.—New York Star.

The Browning Society Still Lives.
The flyaway squibs on the decline of Boston interest in Browning that have appeared in certain papers—chiefly in the funny columns—could not be better refuted, if they were worthy of refutation at all, than by the gathering of Browning lovers at the Hotel Brunswick. Over 150 members of the Boston Browning society came together in the large parlor of the Brunswick for the first meeting of the society after its summer recess, and had an interesting and enthusiastic meeting. There was a brief business meeting at which eight new members were elected.

The society has taken up for its entertainment and study this winter the great poet's longest and most elaborate work, "The Ring and the Book."—Boston Advertiser.

Pulled a Tooth for a Princess.
Dr. William C. Boswell, a young and skillful dentist, who, coming from Baltimore, located in London last spring, had the honor of pulling a tooth from the royal mouth of the fair Princess Maud of Wales last week. It was a wisdom tooth and it had to let go. The princess screamed like a locomotive. Dr. Boswell got £10 ($50) for the job, and of course the advertisement is a priceless one. As for the royal tooth, the doctor has mounted it and enshrined it in a velvet case.—Eugene Field in Chicago News.

Child Suicides.
The Medical and Surgical Reporter is authority for the statement that from Jan. 1 to Sept. 1, 1890, 62 children—46 boys and 16 girls—committed suicide in Berlin. Of this number 24 had attained the age of 15, 14 their 14th year, 9 their 13th, while 7 were only 12 years of age and 1 had not attained the age of 7. In most of the cases the immediate cause for the act remains a secret, but it is supposed to have been due to exceptional severity on the part of servants or teachers.

A Turtle Stops a Cotton Mill.
The Barnard mill was stopped for an hour or so Monday. The machinery was all right, but a curious mud turtle had wandered up the feeding pipe of the engine, causing a cessation of work.—Fall River Globe.

TRANSFERRING THE INDIANS.

General Miles, who has had much experience as an Indian fighter, proposes to relieve the Indian Agents near the scene of the present troubles of the care of the agencies and fill their places with army officers, in other words, to transfer the Indian Bureau from the Interior to the War Department. This policy has been advocated for years by very many people who have lived on the frontier and know something of the habits of the red men. In 1876 the House of Representatives, we believe, passed an act transferring the Indians to the War Department, but the Indian Ring, which flourished and fattened for several years on rich contracts, was too powerful to permit its passage through the Senate and it failed to become a law.

Many strong arguments can be advanced in support of the change. The War Department has to fight the Indians when they go on the war path and it should be afforded every opportunity to know where they are and when they leave their reservations. If placed in full charge of the agencies where rations are served daily or weekly to Indians the officers would know how many are absent, and might learn the cause of their absence, and be prepared to compel good behavior on their part. As it is, as a general rule, eastern politicians, who are utterly ignorant of the Indian character, as a reward for partisan service, are appointed agents, and too frequently, as has been repeatedly proved by investigation, make the point to enrich themselves at the expense of their wards. The evils of this system are too apparent to require comment.

The Indian Bureau is one of the most prominent divisions of the Interior Department and is used for partisan purposes with great advantage. The transfer of the Bureau is therefore opposed by the Secretary of the Interior, but it should not be left to his discretion. The people are taxed to support the Indians and Congress as the representative of the people should, as General Miles suggests, place them in care of the military, who would be responsible for their conduct in time of peace and fight them as they now have to do in times of war.

To-day is the seventy-sixth anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, which was fought January 8, 1815, between the American troops under General Jackson and the British forces under Sir E. Pakenham, and resulted in the death of the British Commander and a complete victory for the Americans. Years ago the event was celebrated throughout the country by displaying the stars and stripes on public buildings, firing cannon, etc.

Senator Stewart's great speech against the Force bill, delivered in the United States Senate, has been received by the Journal. It exposes the hypocrisy and inconsistency of Hoar and other advocates of the bill, and proves that the Nevada Senator can on occasion sink the partisan in the statesman.

The Farmer's Alliance elected the temporary officers of both Houses of the Legislature in Nebraska. The Alliance is now in the ascendancy Kansas as in well as in Nebraska, both of which States have heretofore been overwhelmingly Republican.

The late correspondence between Blaine and Salisbury on the Bering Sea controversy transmitted to the Senate shows that the Plumed Knight is a match for the Tory Premier, and that Blaine declines to arbitrate as proposed by Salisbury.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

The rumored row in the Cabinet is denied.

Governor-elect Markham, of California, will be inaugurated to-day.

The Connecticut Legislature has convened. The Senate is Democratic and the House Republican.

There are deadlocks in the Minnesota and Missouri Assembly over the election of Speaker of each body.

The President has approved General Miles' suggestion that the agencies at Rosebud, Standing Rock, Pine Ridge, Cheyenne river and Tongue river be placed, for the present, under military control.

By direction of the Governor policemen were stationed in the New Hampshire State House, who suffered none to enter the Legislative Chambers except such members as had, "if elected," certificates from Clerk Jewett. This was to prevent the Democrats from getting control of the Legislature.

Sporting Notes.

Special to the Journal.

NEW ORLEANS, January 7.—James J. Corbett, of California, matched to fight Peter Jackson for $10,000, and his manager, Charles Steinitz, arrived to-day and will remain here until after the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons fight. It is stated that Corbett's match with Slavo before the Olympic Club in this city is off on account of Slavin's illness.

Commander Reiter Censured.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—Secretary Tracy has written a letter of unqualified censure to commander Reiter, who was relieved of the command of the Ringer for his action at San Jose, Guatemala, at the time of the killing of General Barandina. The letter says it was his duty to watch carefully over the interests of the United States vessels about. From the moment the approach of the American steamer Acapulco was known to Reiter he should have taken every step in his power to support her Captain and give protection to all persons on board. In his endeavors to escape the responsibility Reiter remained so completely passive that the men-of-war might as well have been on the other side of the ocean.

Secretary Tracy closes his letter in the following words: "It is believed that few cases have occurred in the history of the United States Navy where the commanding officer so completely abandoned the responsibility of his position as, according to your own showing, you did upon this critical occasion. A United States officer does not ask of a foreign government permission to offer an asylum to any person on board an American vessel at sea who stands in need of refuge. An officer who so abdicates his authority and that of the nation he represents and surrenders it to others has a lesson to learn before he can safely be entrusted with the command of a ship of war."

The letter continues: Whenever any passenger, whether American or foreigner, is received on board an American steamer he comes underneath the American flag, and is entitled to the protection and security of which that flag is a guarantee. It was within your legitimate power, as it was your imperative duty, to execute by every means legally at your command the guarantee of protection which the United States gives to all vessels under its flag.

Boys Plead Guilty of Arson.

Special to the Journal.

NAPA, Cal., January 7.—Jas. Flannan, Lee Harrall and Bert Blanchard, who were held on a charge of arson for trial in the Superior Court to-day, withdrew their plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to arson in the second degree. The sentence of the Court was suspended for six months and the boys were sent to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of San Francisco for two months or until further order of the Court. They were leaders of a gang of boys known as "The Spikes" who set fire to several buildings here during the past year "just for fun." They are all young and members of respected families and when their crimes were exposed it caused a sensation here.

Congressional Proceedings.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—Herbert of Alabama opposed the shipping bill, as did Dockery, who called the attention of western farmers to the fact that $50,000,000 were to be taken from the Treasury to sustain and support New England ship owners. George Gould, he understood, was one of the "laboring men" to be benefited. Dingley, of Maine, spoke in favor of the bill, after which the House adjourned.

Smuggled Opium Seized.

Special to the Journal.

PORTLAND, January 7.—The seizure of opium to-day consisted of five hundred and forty-five tael cans, valued at about $3,000. It is stated that the names of the men are Brad and Roach, the former a freight conductor, and the latter a brakeman on a Northern Pacific train between here and Tacoma. The men were taken before a U. S. Commissioner and released on bail.

Two Children Drowned.

Special to the Journal.

CORTONWOOD, Cal., January 7.—Yesterday about noon, two of J. Gibson's children were drowned in a pond near Logan's Ferry, Shasta county; a girl eight years old and a boy six years old. No one saw them drowned, but it is presumed that they were throwing sticks into the pond for a dog to bring out when the accident occurred.

Senate Proceedings.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—The morning hour was devoted to routine business and at its expiration the Finance bill was taken up. Stewart suggested that some time be fixed for taking a vote on the bill and amendments, and named 4 o'clock Friday next. No objection was made, but the matter went over till to-morrow.

Daniel then took the floor and spoke in favor of free coinage.

Piumb followed. He said he did not share the fears of the Senator from Ohio (Sherman) as to what would happen from the free coinage of silver. Perhaps he was not as sensitive on this point as he might be if he had not heard so often similar forebodings from the same quarter that had not been realized.

He (Piumb) was not able to give his support to the bill reported by the Finance Committee. He was opposed to the first section providing for the purchase of twelve million ounces of silver. It would of course add that much money to circulation, but it would inevitably bear on its face the disposition to help a certain class of people at the expense of the Treasury. There should be international bi-metalism. He did not hold that the free coinage of silver was a panacea for all evils, but he did contend it was a long, wise and much needed step in the right direction.

Hiscook spoke against free coinage. The people he represented never believed the free coinage of silver would put that metal on a parity with gold.

Sawyer moved to go into Executive session. "Oh," said Edmunds, "let us take a vote on the bill now."

Stewart expressed a desire that an early day be fixed for a vote. Say Saturday.

Edmunds, in a tone of bitter sarcasm, said: "The session is drawing to an end, and this most important and immaculate bill ought to be got into the form of a law at the earliest possible moment. The country, of course, is suffering for it. Disaster and bankruptcy are said to be impending, and therefore we ought not to leave a stone unturned to get an immediate vote upon it."

Executive session adjourned.

Lies Cause of the Indian Trouble.

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, January 9.—Captain L. Higgins at Army Division Headquarters here received a dispatch this evening from Assistant Adjutant General Corbinat Pine Ridge, saying a number of Indians are coming into the Agency from the camp of the hostiles. How many of the savages are enroute it is impossible to approximate. According to the dispatch the general situation has not greatly changed from the day preceding. The message said the difficulty was well expressed by one old Indian who to-day put in an appearance at Pine Ridge. He declares that too many lies are passing in both directions between the Agency and the Sioux camp. The inference is that when the real situation becomes clearer to both sides the end will be less distant than it has been made to appear.

Dentes the Report—Origin of the Wounded Knee Fight.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—Secretary Proctor to-day vigorously denied that there had been a disagreement between himself and Secretary Noble regarding the removal of Indian Agents.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has received a long report from the agent at Pine Ridge about the Wounded Knee fight, according to which the fight was started by a medicine man of Big Foot's band. When soldiers were searching teepees for arms he suddenly began to cry out "kill the soldiers, their bullets won't have any effect on our ghost spirits," at the same time throwing up a handful of dirt in the air. After a short performance he fired his gun in the direction of the military and this started the fight.

Mexican Railroad Inspector.

Special to the Journal.

SAN DIEGO, January 7.—Senor Valdes, Inspector of Railroads from Mexico, arrived here to-night on his way to Lower California, being sent there to inspect a railroad that will shortly be commenced by the International Company. The contemplated road will run from Escondido to San Quentin, and from there to the Gulf, to connect by steamer with the Mexican road.

The International Monetary Conference.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—The International Monetary Conference met in the State Department this afternoon. It was called to order by Secretary Blaine, who made a brief address of welcome.

Senor Romero, of Mexico, was chosen Temporary Chairman. As all the delegates had not arrived an adjournment was taken subject to the call of the Temporary Chairman.

Stanford Nominated for Senator.

Special to the Journal.

SACRAMENTO, January 7.—At a joint Republican Caucus to-night, Leland Stanford received the unanimous nomination for United States Senator from California. The Democratic caucus nominated Stephen M. White.

A Fat Fee.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 7.—Judge Levy to-day rendered a decision awarding attorney John A. Wright a fee of $95,000 for services rendered the late P. A. Roach as administrator of the Blythe estate.

The Republican caucus of the Pennsylvania Legislature nominated Don Cameron to succeed himself as United States Senator.

A Bold Robbery.

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, January 7.—Two masked men entered the saloon of James Murphy in the stockyards district early this morning and tortured Murphy until he divulged the safe combination, and secured $1,500 and escaped. Murphy recently fell heir to a large sum of money, which the robbers evidently hoped to find in the safe.

NEW TO-DAY.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELIZA A. The painters are at work on the outside of O. Lonkey's fine new house at Verdi.

The Verdi Mill Co.'s box factory is busy on orange boxes for Southern California.

Frank Robb has the brick foundation laid for a new cottage on Stevenson street.

Arnon Abrahams is on his way down from Walla Walla, and will soon be in Reno.

Johnnie Murphy, the genial proprietor of Steamboat Springs, went to San Francisco last night.

L. Brooks, of Hayes & Co., is in Reno looking with both eyes on the cattle and hay market.

George Smith, Lon Smith and W. D. Hardin, all of Pleasant Valley, were at the county seat yesterday.

The marble works at Essex have piles of Inyo marble running through the gauges, and work is kept up night and day.

Frank Freeman came up from the city yesterday morning on business connected with the late firm of Jacques & Son.

The Rocky Run and Floriston ice ponds are not yet frozen over, owing to a south wind current that has kept them open.

Miss Quaffa, of the School for Girls, returned yesterday morning from the Christmas vacation and assumed her duties.

J. H. Kinkadee came down from Virginia last night and boarded the East-bound train for Salt Lake City, where he goes on mining business.

The annual meeting of the State Board of Trade will be held at the Court house next Saturday January 10th. A full attendance is desired.

The Essex Ice Co.'s pond is frozen over with 5 1/2 inches of crystal ice. A few cold nights and the Co. could go to cutting 6,000 or 7,000 tons.

The attention of those desiring proficiency in shorthand is directed to the advertisement of Prof. Church under the head of business locals.

The Commissioners of Ormsby county have fixed the State and county tax for 1891 at $2.50 on each $100 inside the city limits of Carson, and at $2 outside those limits.

James Mayberry has just returned from a trip to Nevada City, Grass Valley and Colfax where he has been selling Washoe alfalfa and potatoes. He contracted to deliver twelve car loads.

Hood's calendar for 1891 is out and it is certainly a beautiful production of the lithographers and printers' arts. Ask your druggist for it or send six cents in stamps for a copy to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hon. J. H. MacMillan, of Humboldt, and ex-Chief Justice Leonard, of the Nevada Supreme Court, have formed a law partnership and established a law office at Ogden. They will practice in all the courts of Utah, and will undoubtedly make the strongest law firm in Utah as they are lawyers of distinguished ability and men of unimpeachable integrity.

A SURPRISE.

Thoughtfulness and Generosity of General Powning.

Professor Clapp, the Librarian of the University, was greatly surprised yesterday afternoon on going into the library to observe a big collection of big books, being a complete set of bound volumes of the Nevada State Journal, presented by General Powning.

We are told that while the gift is most highly prized, and will always be appreciated at the University, it is universally regretted that no longer will it be the pleasure of all concerned to read the friendly editorials and kind letters that came from his hand.

Roll of Honor.

NOTES FROM LOVELOCKS.

Items of Interest From Humboldt Valley.

LOVELOCKS, Nev., January 6, 1891.

EDITOR STATE JOURNAL:—The owners of the gypsum mine near here have just completed their arrangements for shipping gypsum.

They have built very substantial chutes and platforms for handling the gypsum both at the mine and at Lovelock Station.

J. H. Thies has a force of twelve men stopping out ore at his antimony mine.

Mr. Thies is shipping direct to England, and calculates on shipping one hundred tons of antimony by the 1st of February next.

He has hundreds of tons of ore in sight, as he has been at work for months opening up the mine and stripping the lead preparatory to taking out ore.

A large deposit of manganese is reported to have been found near White Plains by Walter Schmidt.

The large dam built by Pitt & Hauskins was completed about a month ago and water turned through the ditch.

This dam is situated about five miles north of Lovelock Station, and takes water sufficiently high to cover all the good land at Big Meadows, of which there is several thousand acres not yet brought under cultivation.

There is considerable water in the Humboldt river now and a small stream flowing from the Humboldt lake to the Sink of Carson.

Work has been commenced on the dam owned by Marker, Thies and Carpenter; also on the dam owned by the Union Canal Company. These dams were entirely washed away by the high water last season.

There is considerable wheat and barley being sown here. The winter so far has been so open that farmers have plowed and sowed grain right along.

A number of fields of new land will be placed under cultivation this year, both in the tule and crease wood land.

A very effective and cheap method of clearing grease-wood has been devised by E. J. Clark. He uses two iron rails twenty feet long, one about four feet behind the other, and chained together at each end.

These are drawn by eight horses, and cut a swath through the brush twenty feet wide, and in the soft, mellow ground the rails pull all of the brush up by the roots.

Mr. Clark, by this method, clears twenty-five acres a day of brush land that would cost at least three dollars per acre to clear with grubbing hoes by the old method.

A few cattle are being fed here this season; not one-half the number fed last year, and considerable alfalfa will be shipped to California. There are two presses running steadily baling hay, one belonging to Pitt Brothers and the other to John Hill & Son.

The Railroad Company has given very fair rates on hay, and the concession enables farmers to realize a fair profit on hay.

John Hill, the champion potato raiser of Nevada, and one of our solid farmers, has leased his ranch to Joseph Dumas and purchased the residence of Lewis Reese in Lovelock, where he now resides.

The Indian scare does not affect our Indians much, or at least would not if some of the leading ones of the tribe did not work them up as far as they can, and then pretend to be trying to pacify them in order to be in with Uncle Sam.

Such has been the practice of Sarah Winnemucca-Hopkins. About a week ago she reported to the Indians that the soldiers were coming at night to kill them all without warning.

The Indians, thinking she knew all about it, staid up all night and rode around on their ponies with guns. The next day some of the young bucks asked the white men why the soldiers did not come, and could hardly be made to believe that no soldiers were coming.

However, Sarah got a position as interpreter. She is shrewd, and generally knows what she is about.

TAYLOR DALTON.

TROUBLESOME INDIANS.

Settlers at Fort McDermitt Becoming Alarmed.

The Winnemucca Silver State says: "Couriers arrived Tuesday from Fort McDermitt, announcing that the Indians are getting very troublesome. There being one hundred and fifty bucks and nearly the same number of squaws, a large majority of the Indians being strangers in that section of the country. The actions of the Indians are different from anything heretofore seen. There are but twenty-two white males and about the same number of women and children, but not enough to cope with the Indians. Furthermore, the whites have no arms in their possession suitable to war with Indians. Should the Indians commence hostilities in that section, every man, woman and child will no doubt be massacred. The Governor should immediately take action in the matter, and, if necessary, send troops to that section without delay. We understand the Governor has been telegraphed to for assistance."

Weather Report for January 7, 1891, Ogden—Cloudy, calm; 30 degrees above zero.

Wells—Clear, north wind; 6 degrees above zero.

Elko—Clear, calm; zero.

Winnemucca—Clear, southwest wind; 12 degrees above zero.

Reno—Cloudy, calm; 30 degrees above zero.

Truckee—Foggy, calm; zero.

Summit—Cloudy, southeast wind; 18 degrees above zero.

ALLAN B. EVANS BURIED.

A Deserved Tribute to an Old Nevadaan.

The Sunday Chronicle contains the following relative to the death of a well known and respected citizen:

"Entered into rest, December 19th, at his home, 2519 Sacramento street, Allan B. Evans, a native of Defiance, Ohio, in his fifty eighth year." The above notice brought unexpected sorrow to many hearts for though a sufferer for over 20 years, the cheerful welcome and happy ease of Mr. Evans in receiving all friends, took from him so completely the outward signs of physical pain that the summons came at last with a suddenness to even the most intimate.

"For over thirty years the name of Allan B. Evans has been a well known one in Nevada and California, a synonym for strict integrity and unfailing kindness of heart. Loved by all who knew him and especially by children, his long illness, borne with unusual patience and sweetness endeared him to old friends and new. He died from progressive paralysis induced by hardships endured in the saddle when in charge of the great 'Evans Ranches.'"

The end when it came was entirely peaceful, and although preceded by months of suffering, was in the final moments free from pain. With unclouded intellect he prepared to meet death as a brave man should, glad to be released and only sorrowing for the grief of his wife. Gifted with a singularly pure and childlike simplicity of character, the kindest and most wholesome of natures, with a broad liberality and generous heart and hand, Allan Evans leaves no enemy.

"In St. Paul's Church the last rites were performed. The bright sunshine of California December stole in falling upon the handsome casket with its black draperies and wealth of flowers heaped about him by loving hands and lighting up the peaceful face. The choir sang soft and low a sweet anthem and soothing hymn and the beautiful burial service of the Protestant Episcopal Church was recited. Once more at his grave the sweet voices of those who loved him were lifted up in sacred song and in Laurel Hill Cemetery among flowers and sweet and tender associations, on one of the loveliest days of the closing year, he was left to sleep."

Officers Installed.

At a regular meeting of Washington Lodge No. 25, A. O. U. W., held at their hall last evening, the following officers were installed by B. C. Shearer, D. D. G. M.: E. C. Gladwin, P. M. W.; J. K. Seaman, M. W.; C. P. Cross, Foreman; A. Stiner, Overseer; B. C. Shearer, Recorder; Fred A. Strassberg, Financier; I. N. Bakeless, Receiver.

District Court.

In the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe county, Judge Cheney presiding, the case of Van Reitz vs. Gammons is on trial.

School for Girls.

The Easter term of Bishop's School for Girls commenced yesterday. The attendance is large and the classes were organized and regular work began to-day.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

Skates at Lange & Schmitt's.

Go to Jack Fraser's market for nice fresh meats of all kinds.

Go to Lange & Schmitt for heating stoves, cook stoves, ranges and house furnishing goods. Largest variety and best values.

For your note, letter, legal and foolscap paper, patronize C. J. Brookins, who also carries writing tablets of all styles and sizes.

Reward—Everybody is who go and inspect the crockery, glassware, vases, painted china and hardware at Lange & Schmitts. Lowest cash prices.

Prof. Churob, who has been teaching shorthand writing for the past five years, and who has just completed a course of instruction in Carson to a class of sixty is now in our city organizing a class.

The price of the Journal to city subscribers, delivered by carrier, will henceforth be fifteen cents a week, payable to the carrier. This, considering that it furnishes the very latest news by telegraph, makes the Journal the cheapest paper in Nevada.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Every business man in Seattle is to be required to take out a license, the cost of which will range from $40 to $400. The financial needs of the city make the tax a necessity.
